

Aiming for Toilets Clean Enough to Eat in! Striving to Achieve No.1 Cleanliness in Vietnam through Toilet Cleaning

November 5, 2015

Japanese toilets are so clean that you could eat there. Have you ever heard of such a story?

AEON Delight Vietnam (“ADV”) cleans the toilets at AEON Mall Tan Phu Celadon and AEON Mall Binh Duong Canary to offer the same clean and sanitary environment as Japan that is clean enough to eat in.

The secret lies in the training of the cleaning staff. Manuals with photos are used to show the required Japanese standards. Cleaning is done according to these standards, while supervisors who know the Japanese cleaning conditions conduct regular quality checks to ensure the clean environment is maintained.

ADV will continue its efforts to earn a reputation that AEON Delight Vietnam is No. 1 in cleanliness when it comes to toilet cleaning.
